

For the Love of Language

Celebration for Education

On Saturday, November 20th, the Milton Foundation for Education will host its sixth annual Celebration for Education at Lombardo's in Randolph. In the past five years, this fabulous community event has raised nearly $600,000 to benefit the math, science, technology, fitness and arts programs in the Milton Public Schools. This year we hope to raise the bar with a new fund raising record to support World Language programs in our schools as well as the other ongoing work of the Foundation.

Where do you come in?

Among the special features of this great evening are its live and silent auctions. Previous auctions have proven that the best items often come from you-the parents. Do you own or have access to a cottage at the beach or a cabin in the mountains that you could donate for a weekend or a week? Does your business have a corporate box at the Fleet Center or Fenway Park, or do you have tickets to other sporting events? Could you donate a round of golf at your favorite course? Do you have access to tickets for theater events or concerts? Do you or someone you know have a special talent like painting, music, computers, carpentry, cooking? Do you frequent a business that could return your loyal support with a gift certificate or service? Do you have frequent flyer miles that you could donate??? Donate something on your own or team up with friends, neighbors or co-workers. Just, please, donate!
