Celebration for Education 2006* to be held on Saturday, November 18
Proceeds to benefit Math, Science and Technology programs

The Milton Foundation for Education is hosting its annual fundraiser Celebration for Education on Saturday, November 18 at Lombardo's in Randolph. The theme for this year's event From Zero to Zenith...Infinite Possibilities! will focus on math, science and technology. All proceeds from the evening will be used to enhance and enrich these programs in all the schools, bringing innovative curriculum and state of the art equipment directly into the classroom. Celebration for Education 2006 will feature exciting and dynamic new elements to complement the familiar Silent and Live Auctions and Ireland Raffle.

Since its inception seven years ago, Celebration for Education has raised over $1 million dollars for the Milton Public Schools. According to Celebration 2006 Committee Chairs Don and Kristan Jones, Paul and Tricia Carroll, and Pete and Sue Hoy there is still plenty of time for the community to get involved with this worthwhile and important event. The following is a list of opportunities:

- Become a sponsor. It is a critical component of the evening's success
- Donate an item for the silent and live auctions. Tickets to major sporting and cultural events, spa and restaurant gift certificates, weekend get-aways are always popular items.
- Join a Celebration Committee. Committees include Publicity, Gift Solicitation, Flyers & School Liaisons, Invitations & Tickets, Live and Silent Auctions, Raffle, Program Book, Room Decorating, Home Décor, Gift Acknowledgement, and General Volunteers.

For more information about participating in this wonderful event please call 617-696-4568 x 2208 or email the Celebration Committee at Celebration2006@comcast.net.
